

Evan L. Kolodziejczak
evan.kolodziejczak@temple.edu

Education

- Fall 2024 – Present Temple University
Doctor of Philosophy in History program with a focus on the impact of organizational culture on institutional learning in the first half of the Twentieth Century. Expected graduation Spring 2030.
- 2019 – 2021 Pennsylvania State University
Master of Professional Studies in Homeland Security with a focus in Counterinsurgency.
- 2011 – 2015 United States Naval Academy
Bachelor of Science in Political Science with a focus in International Relations.

Teaching Experience

- January 2019 – May 2021 Course Director, Marine Intelligence Officer Course; Company Commander
Responsible for the instruction and certification of all entry level Marine enlisted and officer intelligence professionals. Led a training company of 250 Marines responsible for the welfare and academic performance of the company.

Conferences

- April 2025 2025 Barnes Conference
Presented a panel with Dr. Gregory Urwin: “The Marines of D-Day: The Observers of Operation Overlord and the Impact on Marine Corps Institutional Learning”.

Additional Service

- March 2025 – Present Vice President of Barnes History Club at Temple University
Responsible for representing the graduate student body during departmental meetings and providing support to graduate students throughout the semester as well as providing organizational oversight to the annual Barnes Conference.
- June 2021- July 2024 Battalion Operations Officer/Company Commander, Joint Cyber Operations
Responsible for planning and executing battalion operations and for commanding and training 60 joint service personnel.
- August 2016 – December 2018 Intelligence Operations Officer – 8th Marine Regiment
Deployed to Helmand Province, Afghanistan for 11 months in support of Operation FREEDOM’S SENTINEL. Responsible for the training and conduct of all intelligence operations in support of Afghan National Defense Security Forces.