

JAZMIN EVANS, M.A.

Jazmin.evans@temple.edu

Philadelphia, PA 19123

EDUCATION

---

- PhD Temple University, Africology & African American Studies In Progress
- MA Temple University, Africology & African American Studies May 2019
Thesis: “Scientific Racism’s Role in the Social Thought of African Inferiority”
Advisor: Kimani Nehusi, Ph.D.
- BA Kent State University, Pan-African Studies May 2017

EXPERIENCE

---

- Temple University - Department of Africology '21 Summer Session II – Present
- Instructor –
    - History & Significance of Race in America (Summer 2- 21, Spring 22)
    - The Black Child (Spring 22)
  - TA-
    - Sports & Leisure in American Society (Fall 21)

FELLOWSHIPS & COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

---

- Community Service Chair – Organization of Africology & African American Graduate Students (OAAAGS) Fall 21-Present
- DISA Fellow- Diopian Institute for Scholarly Advancement 2022-2023

HONORS AND AWARDS

---

Annie Hyman Award for Outstanding Service 2021
Given by the Africology and African American Studies Department to a student who has demonstrated outstanding service to the department.

Stephen Couvillion Scholarship 2019
Named in the honor of a former graduate student this award is made to the master’s student who shows unusual initiative and direction in research and scholarship. Given to the student that has best satisfied the demands of the award, the Couvillion Award represents one of the highest awards given in the department.

PRESENTATIONS AND INVITED LECTURES

---

Paper Presentation, “Examining Black Masculinity and Hyper Masculine Identities

,” National Council of Black Studies Conference, March 2018

Paper Presentation, “Addressing The Inadequacies of Western Psychology
,” National Council of Black Studies Conference, March 2019

Paper Presentation, “Defining Ritualized Terror and Vicarious Trauma”
,” Africa and the Global Atlantic World Conference, Postponed due to COVID-19