PROFILE

Dedicated educator focused on teaching Spanish, the creation and assessment of syllabus and assignments along with the integration of educational technology. Committed to fostering a positive learning environment. Expert in multi-tasking, problem-solving, and leveraging strong organizational and communication skills to drive success in diverse education settings. Coupled with my strengths in teamwork, I am able to contribute significantly to curriculum development and the academic progress of students in any Spanish level. I currently hold a Master's degree and I am pursuing a PhD in Spanish to further enhance my experience and contribute to the academic community.
